

Charm: Husband Wish List

Note: The assumption has been made that you will marry a Christian husband.

Under the Character Traits column list all those character traits you would like to see in your future husband (e.g., loyalty, duty, honor, cheerfulness, sense of humor, etc.). In the second column, list those things you would really like (e.g., height, hair color, eye color, etc.)

Character Traits	Physical Attributes

Before you marry, look to see how the husband treats the wife for this is more than likely how you will be treated. Also look how males (brothers/male cousins treat sisters/female cousins). Why? You will begin to see if the family you are thinking of marrying into treat women as if they were jewels or doormats to be walked upon to help you make this all important decision. (The same should be done by males — how do the females treat males in a family? Do the females treat the males with respect or are they harpies? naggers? complainers? do they backbite?, etc.)
